Where does contemporary dance intersect with sustainability?

How can we produce pieces in a more sustainable way?

But above all, with so limited sources in terms of money, time and energy – how can we reach human and social sustainability?

After having organized four "Ceren Oran & Moving Borders Sessions" with inspiring international panellists and moderators, we want to dig this time into the topic of sustainability. Can we find a new balance between creating new productions and touring the existing ones? How can new formats change the concept of touring and mobility?

Four guests will present their insights into environmental, human or social sustainability in their practices as artists, curators or production managers.

Guests:

Jonaid Khodabakhshi (treibgut München), Friederike Jäcksch (Creative Producer, München),
Mechtild Tellmann (tanz.tausch festival & Netzwerk Köln) & Ceren Oran

The discussion will be moderated by Laura Martegani (Rat und Tat Kulturbüro München).
